The secret perks of beekeeping

For Andrew Eshelman, beekeeping is about more than just getting home-made honey and a flourishing back yard. Being with his bees brings him a sense of calm. And it's led to a new home-based business for him and wife Hilary. Read our feature here.

In this 3 Story short, Andrew shares his story. Interview by Gillian Drummond. Filmmakers: Lilly Ruiz, Danilo Castro, Christopher Boladeres. Music composed by German Higuera.

My Space - Sonoran Glass School

The Sonoran Glass School is a little-known Tucson gem, despite its national reputation. It is executive director John-Peter Wilhite's task to get Tucson residents excited about the glass art on their doorstep, starting with the school's annual Flame Off competition on February 6th.

John-Peter shares his plans for the space in our 3 Story short. Interview and photos by Gillian Drummond. Video by Ricardo Bracamonte. Music by Zachary Reid.

My Space - HiEndTight Barber Shop

Chris Willhoite gave up a career in car sales to open HiEndTight, an old-fashioned style barber shop in Tucson that's making a name for its hot towel treatments and straight razor shaves.

As the male grooming market continues to grow and classic haircuts make a comeback, Chris shares his up-and-coming business in our 3 Story short. Interview and photos by Gillian Drummond. Video by Ricardo Bracamonte. Model: Raymond Colon.

My Space - One young entrepreneur and his grandmother's sewing machine

Qmulative started as a blog, with Quinlan Wilhite sharing his interests - cars, skateboarding, hip hop music and street art - with friends. Today it is a brand, producing hats, T-shirts and accessories carrying the Qmulative logo.

When Quinlan appeared at Tucson Fashion Week 2014, it was after an intense 18-month journey of learning how to sew - on his grandmother's machine. He shares his story in this 3 Story film short. My Space - The Hive Hair Studio

Sarah Tyler has wanted to cut and style hair since she was five years old. "I was braiding my dolls' hair, cutting Barbies' hair. They got real ugly, these Barbie dolls," she laughs. This year she took over as owner of The Hive Hair Studio, located in Tucson's Hotel Congress and known for its retro hair styling.

In this 3 Story short, Sarah explains why her space not only transforms her clients, but has transformed her. Interview and photos by Gillian Drummond. Video by Ricardo Bracamonte. Model: Veronica Stice.

My Space - Adventures in coffee roasting

Scott Gilliland dreamed of roasting coffee beans for decades. Then he bought a tiny coffee roaster and started appearing at farmers' markets in and around Tucson. Today, Adventure Coffee Roasting occupies a small warehouse and is a supplier to restaurants, coffee shops and stores around the southwest. In this 3 Story short, this former software executive explains why, despite the company's growth, he'll never quit farmers' markets. Interview and photos by Gillian Drummond. Video by Ricardo Bracamonte.

My Space - a welder and the space that Spiderman built

Stephen Kimble created Tucson's Metal Arts Village as a place for him to weld, and for other artists to come together. It's the space that Spiderman built; the money came from a seven-figure settlement with Marvel over a Spiderman toy Stephen says was his invention. More on that here. In this 3 Story short, Stephen tells how the space has given more meaning to his days. Interview and photos by Gillian Drummond. Video by Ricardo Bracamonte.

My Space - Tales from the roller derby rink

Roller derby player Carolyn Van Hazel came to the sport late, aged 41 and a working mother of two. Now she's a member of Tucson Roller Derby's VICE Squad under the name Van D. Lyzer.

In this 3 Story short, she talks about the freedom and focus she finds out on the skating rink. Interview by Gillian Drummond. Video by Ricardo Bracamonte. Music by Gazzze, a three-piece indie band from Tucson, AZ. For a link to their downloadable EP click here. With thanks to Tucson Indoor Sports Center.

Planet Rabbit: an art gallery on wheels

They do it with food trucks and libraries, so why not art galleries? Tucson's latest art gallery stretches just 8 feet high by a little over 5 feet wide and is the baby of David Aguirre, a mover and shaker in Tucson's arts scene now for decades. Here's our radio story on the Planet Rabbit launch in downtown Tucson. And here's the 3 Story feature that inspired it, a profile of David by Joan Calcagno.
